SMALL BUSINESS IN THE SPOTLIGHT TOWN TEES

Town Tees: Empowering Youth, Building Community, and Shaping the Future

Now situated in its new storefront located in the Summerhill Plaza on the north side of town, Town Tees has evolved from a basement dream into an award-winning, youth-driven social enterprise. Since its inception in 2018 by owners Andrew & Juli-Anne James, Town Tees has grown to become more than a custom apparel decoration company; It has become a force where printing meets purpose.

"From the beginning, I knew this could be a business that would not only deliver quality products but also serve as a powerful tool for teaching and providing crucial first-job experiences to the youth, all while generating funds to support our charity, Streams," remarked James during the ribbon-cutting ceremony for the grand opening of the new store last September. The commitment to empowering the next generation at Town Tees surpasses the realm of employment. Boasting a team predominantly under the age of 20, the company places a premium on skill development. It is not merely building a workforce, but cultivating a community that fosters the growth of unique identities.

Town Tees' impact extends far beyond the confines of its storefront. The vibrant threads of Town Tees weave a narrative that reaches into the heart of local schools, where the production of spirit wear serves as more than just a symbol of pride—it becomes a financial catalyst for various school initiatives.

As Town Tees progresses into the future, this commitment remains steadfast, promising continued enrichment of the lives of young individuals through meaningful collaborations and support.
